Applicants may request up to $3,000 per proposal. The funds may be applied to the cost of: consultants (e.g. evaluators, statisticians, etc.), supplies, support staff, compensation to research participants, publication costs. If collaborators from other TAMU Colleges are participating, financial support from these Colleges is encouraged.

The letters must include a description of their roles in the project.
4. If the proposed project requires human subjects, attach a copy of official to-date documentation of its Institutional Review Board (IRB) certification status (i.e., "pending," "approved," etc.) at the time of proposal submission.
