

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY
College of Medicine

Presents:
KEEPING MEDICINE HUMAN AND KEEPING MEDICINE HUMANE

The Department of Humanities in Medicine at Texas A&M University College of Medicine is proud to present their inaugural two-day conference.

Thursday and Friday

Aug. 14 & 15, 2025

Featuring:

The Problem of Pain in Medicine: Treating Pain as Safely as Possible

Joyce Hnatek, MD

Clinical Assistant Professor
Primary Care and Rural Health

Artificial Intelligence and Influence on Leadership Development of Medical Students

Michael Dewsnap, PhD

Instructional Assistant Professor
Humanities in Medicine

Digital Doctors: Machine Learning and Human Caring in Medicine

Keynote Speaker

Elizabeth Cohen, MD

Chief Medical Officer
Cleveland Clinic

Identifying and Responding to Human Trafficking in a Clinical Setting

Sunitha Konatham, MPH

Director of Training
UnboundNow Austin

*Pregnancy Health, Alcohol and Substance
Use and Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders*

Rajesh Miranda, PhD

Shelton Professor of Neuroscience
Neuroscience and Experimental Therapeutics

The Role of Entertainment Media in the Development of Professionalism in Medical Students - The Case of 'Grey's Anatomy'

Susan Rudd Bailey, MD

Adjunct Professor
Humanities in Medicine

REGISTER NOW!

STUDENTS FREE

EARLY REGISTRATION

$75 BY JULY 15, 2025

LATE REGISTRATION

$150

ACCREDITATION: Texas A&M University College of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

DESIGNATION: Texas A&M University College of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The presentations titled, "The Problem of Pain in Medicine: Treating Pain as Safely as Possible", "Identifying and Responding to Human Trafficking in a Clinical Setting", and "Pregnancy health, alcohol, and substance use and Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders" have been designated by the Texas A&M University College of Medicine for one hour of education in medical ethics and professional responsibility.

FACULTY AND PLANNER DISCLOSURE: None of the planners and faculty for this educational activity have relevant financial relationships to disclose with ineligible companies whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients.