OUR STORY

Established in 1977, the newly renamed Texas A&M University Naresh K. Vashisht College of Medicine was created to serve veterans and the underserved populations of Texas. Today, we stand for pioneering research and innovation, unwavering compassion and selfless service, personalized patient care for all, and unrivaled education and collaboration.

OUR VISION

Our vision is to be a distinguished and recognized leader in medical education, research, and patient care. By trailblazing the Aggie way through innovation, service, excellence, and compassion, we will advance health care for humanity and improve lives for generations to come.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to develop accomplished, forward-thinking, compassionate, and ethical Aggie leaders to pioneer the future of health in Texas and beyond.
